

Jesus chooses His Disciples

Jesus choose 12 men to be his disciples.

They were normal people, with normal jobs, but God had a special plan for them.

Jesus taught the disciples the Bible, how to pray and how to obey God.

One day, Jesus told his disciples to go out and share His special message with others.

They were to go to homes and villages, share the good news and perform miracles.

Jesus told them not to take lots of thing with them, but that God would provide everything they needed.

The disciples went door to door telling everyone the wonderful news.

Not everyone wanted to listen to them, but many did and put they trust in God.

Jesus also wants us to share His good news with others and promises to help us.

Games and Activities

Find 12 disciples

Hide the pictures of the 12 disciples in different places around your home or room.

Have your children to try to find all 12 as quickly as possible.

Copycat

Select one person to be the leader.

Everyone else should copy that person. If you have enough people, have one person leave the room when choosing the leaders.

When they reenter they should try to guess who everyone is copying.

Speak about how a disciple is someone who tries to be like their teacher.

Team relay game

Set up a simple relay game to complete as a team. It could be something simple like passing a balloon over your head and running to the back or running to collect something from the other side of the room.

Speak about how Jesus wants us to be on His team and to work together to complete His mission.
